ARKANSAS' EMEUTE

Fitzpatrick's Bloody Reign in Osceola.

Origin and Development of the Civil War-Investigation and Contemplated Arrests by United States Marshals-No Registration for the Presidential Election.

OSCROLA, Ark., Oct. 21, 1872. Mesars. Dorsey and Hodges, the commissioners ppointed to investigate the facts connected with e late troubles at this place, stopped short at emphis, and there obtained the written statements of Judge Moore, of the Probate Court of this (Mississippi) county; P. D. Lanier, now of Memphis, but formerly of this place; Mr. Edrington, of Memphis, brother of the Assessor of this county, and perhaps one or two others. Hodges en returned, perhaps to Little Rock, and on the forning of the 19th Dorsey went to Marion, the ounty seat of Crittenden county, on the Little Rock Railroad, to which place were transferred two boxes of arms which had been forwarded from Little Rock to Hopefield, opposite nphis. Two Deputy United States Marshals— hards, from Little Rock, and Hart, of this place, were with the commissioners at Memphis. The commissioners had been furnished with United States warrants for the arrest of such persons as on examination of the facts they should think fit to have arrested, the names being left blank in the warrants. The commissioners turned over these warrants to the deputy marshals, with instrucons to come here and further investigate the matter and to fill in the names and make arrests. Richards came up on the 19th and Hart on the 20th, and arrived here last night at eleven, by the steamer rand Tower. Judge Moore, Captain D. Matthews merchant and planter of this place, with several other temporary refugees, returned on the same boat. Hart and Richards are busy investirating matters in an informal manner, of the facts nd results of which I will give you information in due time. I have ascertained the substance of the STATEMENTS MADE BEFORE THE COMMISSIONERS in Memphis, and have sifted the reports and ru-mors that are and have been current, and will give

In Memphis, and have sifted the reports and rumors that are and have been current, and will give you the results, condensed, from the most reliable sources of information.

By the last registration of this county, made two years ago, it appears that there was a majority of white voters over colored of about one hundred and fifty, and the democratic majority was nearly the same. Those best informed assure me that on a full registration now it would be found that the voting population of the county would number about one thousand, of which the colored and white radicals would constitute nearly or quite one-half. Firzaratics, a native of Kentucky and ex-captain of the Seventh Kentucky federal cavalty, who had been but three years resident in Arkansas, and during that time had held the offices of Prosecuting Attorney and Circuit Judge, came to this place early in August last, opened a law office and, as he admits, set to work to revolutionize this country, so as to secure a republican majority. He became a candidate for State Senator for this district, was appointed President of the Board of Registration, and in this capacity is said to have acted very unfairly, taking but one day to register townships when his predecessor occupied two days, and in one instance, at least, failing to be visible to the white voters of a township on the appointed day, while his registry of the township bears the names of its colored voters. In August, Fitzpatrick charged Edmington, the Assessor of the County, and Best, the County Clerk, with frauds in connection with the county assessments, from which charges they promptly exculpated themselves.

His charges Against sherrip Mulkar, who was highly esteemed in the county, were more serious. He not only charged that Murray had collected the school revenue in greenbacks and paid it out in depreciated State scrip, for which there was little or no foundation in fact, but in general terms accused him of stealing $1,200 of school money, when the fact was the whole amount of school money, whe perhaps one-third of its value.

CRITTENDEN COUNTY
lies directly south of this, and is the direction from which the people here have feared violence. Marion is evidently the base of militia operations, should any be ordered; but the marshals assure the people that they shall not be molested if they keep the peace, which they seem well disposed to do. Judge Fitzgerald is at large on straw bait and not likely to return in a hurry. The marshals have examined the only registration books they could find, being the State duplicates, and find them blank, and now the people want to know what they are to do about an election; to which the marshals reply that the vote is about equally divided, and it is no matter whether it is cast at all, except for county officers, for which a special election can be ordered. The anti-radical majority of the county is about two hundred.

A NEAT BURGLARIOUS JOB.

A safe Blown Open with Nitro-Glyce-rine-Extraordinary Result of the Ex-

A set of ingenious burgiars secreted themselves in the building No. 47 Fulton street, Friday afternoon last, and when the clerks in the employ of James L. Morgan & Co., of the Hudson River Chemical Works and Dye Wood Mills, had concluded their day's work and departed, commenced operatheir day's work and departed, commenced operations on a large Marvin alum safe which stood in the office in the rear portion of the building. Knocking off the door knob the operators proceeded to cut out with cold chisels the plate to which it was attached. This done a portion of the lock was exposed, and into this the thieves placed a quantity of nitroglycerine, which was ignited by means of a covered train. The explosion, which was of sufficient force to completely annihilate the whole door of the safe, did not even crack a pane of glass in the office or in the least injure a large glass globe, which stood on the top of the safe itself. Fortunately, the thieves were poorly paid for their skill and labor, for they succeeded in getting from the safe but $175 in money and twelve $500 bonds of the People's Ferry Company, none of which are negotiable. In their haste they neglected to remove a package containing $300 in money.

A SENSUAL MONSTER

A Startling Chapter of Crime-How a German Girl Was Entrapped and Ruined in Newark by a Married Me with His Wife's Connivance.

The Newark Court of Quarter Sessions was occupied during six days of the week just closed in trying a man named Gustave Wasmuth for a series of crimes, the enormity of which, judged from a moral point only, sink into the shade even murder, the highest crime known to law. There had been found against him six indictments—one for having brutally assaulted and beaten with a club a young man in his employ, and five for forcibly ruining a poor German girl named Rosa Moosedorf, and on all six he was finally found guilty. The details of the latter case, stripped of the disgusting revelations made in Court, are as follows:-Rosa, who is now about twenty-one years of age, plain and fresh of face and round and plump of form, came from Teutonia about a year ago. She has a cousin in New York, a policeman, with whom she went to reside immediately on her arrival. It seems this cousin wented her to marry a brother policeman, but this she refused, and as a result was compelled to seek a home elsewhere. To Brattleboro, Vt. she went, and took service with a family there; but the family breaking up she found her way back to the metropolis and placed herself on the list of "help" in a Bowery intelligence office. From here she was consigned to the care of Wasmuth, who keeps a notorious den in the basement of the corner of Broad and Bridge streets, Newark, and which has long been a hideous eyesore to the good moral Christians of the Jersey City of Churches. Once or twice the police have literally made "descenta" on it, but somehow it was never broken up. A piane was kept going every night, and a few unfortunate cyprians retained in their disgusting gewgaws to entice Newark youths to destruction. Into this den the unsuspecting Rosa—fair and pure as the Vermont hills, whence she had just come—went as a general servant. This was early in September. Five days and nights she remained there, and what occurred resulted in the indictments of Wasmuth on five charges, all connected with rape. The incidents of these five nights form a chapter of shame, miamy and monstrous intquity which, if it were possible, would

to print. The most appalling phase of the unwritten story may be imagined from the fact that the monster's own wife, Mrs. Wasmuth, was an aid and accessory to the commission of the crime. She, too, was indicted, and as soon as her infant babe's condition permits, will be tried also. It that pending the trial Wasmuth had made the most desperate efforts to get witnesses and the complainant beyond the reach of the Court. Heary F. Bowers swore that Wasmuth offered him $200 if he would go before the Court and swear he had improper relations with poor Rosa, the object being to reduce the crime to a lower grade, punishable only by a fine of $14. Augustus Boyer was likewise offered a handsome consideration if he would induce the girt to take $50 and herself West. One Guire, a barber, who is a tenant of Wasmuth, revealed the fact that the latter had offered him a year's rent free if he would try and get the girl and the witnesses out of the way. On Friday the case was given to the jury, and, after a brief deliberation, they returned a verdict on all the indictments found. If the full penaty of the law is inflicted Wasmuth win be sentenced to sixty-five years in the State Prison and to pay fines amounting to $6,000. He is a man about thirty years of age, of most repuisive form and features, sensuality and brutality being plainly written on his face. He is quite weil off. The Court considered the statement of Rosa the most straightforward and natural they had ever heard. The attempt to blacken her character has won warm sympathy for her from all quarters.

YORKVILLE POLICE COURT.

A Politician's Followers Cleaning Out Third Avenue-A Gang That the Police

Should at Once Break Up. On Saturday the Michael Whalen Association, whose headquarters are on the northeast corner of Forty-second street and Third avenue, went on a target excursion to some one of the uptown pleasure grounds. On their return in the evening they were followed by an immense gang, composed of the worst scoundrels of the Nineteenth and Twenty-first wards. As the procession passed down Third avenue the people on both sides rushed out upon the sidewalk. The crowd of thieves jostled against them unmercifully, throwing women and children into the gutters, and even sometimes striking right and left without provocation, and generally robbing out provocation, and generally robbing every one who was unfortunate enough to come in their way. In this way they continued until the target company drew up at the corner of Forty-second street, leaving in their track a scene of excitement, bloodsned and robbery unequalled in many a day. The police, it must be said, did their utmost to prevent the outrages committed, but failed. The following are the only cases where they were successful:— Officer James Quigley, of the Nineteenth, arrested Thomas Donahue and Thomas Brown, for robbing Frederick Windhorn, of 884 Second avenue, of a silver watch. William Davis was arrested by Officer James Connolly, also of the Nineteenth precinct, for attempting to rob Patrick McDonald, of 91s Third avenue, of a silver watch. McDonald, of 91s Third avenue, of a silver watch. McDonald caught hold of Davis as the latter was going to run away, and held him as if in a vice. Some friends of Davis set upon McDonald and endeavored to make him let his prisoner go, but he would not do so; and one of them then drew a knife and gave the brave fellow a terrible cut across the whole width of the back of his head. The blow was meant for the neck, but. a terrible cut across the whole width of the back of his head. The blow was meant for the neck, but, fortunately for McDonald, he did not get it there, else he would have been killed. The officer at length came to his relief, and soon reduced Davis to submission, the others in the meantime taking to their heels. At the station house Davis was recognized as the thief who, on the 23d inst., robbed Mr. George H. Harrison, of 335 East Fifty. First street, of a gold watch and chain, valued at $150. The prisoners were arraigned before Justice Coulter at the above Court yesterday morning, and held each in default of $1,000 bail for trial. Many others were robbed, but the thieves escaped.

PAVOR, IR TO LEAVE ONE'S SOLUTION.

"Society will not allow you to escape from the flood. The question becomes as stereotyped as the conventional inquiries about your heatth, or observations touching the weather, 'How do you like Agnest' Which Agnes, my cousin? She is one of the objects of my adoration.' No; I mean Agnes at the UNION SQUARE. THEATRE.

Of course you have seen it.' The last observation is made in a tone which implies that if you have not seen it, you must certainly have neglected your duty to society, and have, therefore, no right to rank yourself with people of style. If requires too much moral fortitude to withstand the humiliation, especially if it be repeated for weeks, or even months, and when you are told for the fortieth time that you ought to,' or you must see it, you bow at last to the popular verdict.'
